

Shop 'n shine with Ms Tali

The who's who of Sydney's shopping set turned out in force to help self-confessed shopaholic, Tali Shine, 22, launch her book The Glam Girls Guide to Sydney Shopping.

Guests packed Paddington's small but cute The Corner Shop to see the confident Sydney columnist and part-time model, reveal her secrets. On her return from a European jaunt and seven months in New York, Shine decided to write her book because she could not find the shopping guides she so desired. She secretly visited Sydney's top shops and eateries for five months gathering information on where to get the latest in fashion and where to be "pampered like a princess". Her book will be launched soon in New York at the upmarket Elizabeth Charles boutique.

Shine will be heading-up shopping tours later in the year for anyone wanting a personal excursion to her favourite shopping spots.
